The human race is on the brink of a new era - Big changes are coming our way, and many of them won't be pleasant with threats to our environment and global peace already underway. But Jay Hill and Michelle Kraus, the authors of 2012: A Guide to Spiritual Awareness, assure us that if we can truly touch our spiritual cores that we can overcome anything. Hill and Kraus spent one year channeling the vital information brought to you in this book by their spiritual guides and angels and also by spiritual entities who are working for the good of humanity and our planet. This book is not about the end; it's about the beginning—the beginning of a new way of thinking, feeling, and living among the human race on this planet we call our home. You don't need to be a meditation expert or a spiritual guru to benefit from this book. This book is directed at anyone and everyone who wants to wake up spiritually and get through the changes that are coming with love, compassion, and resilience. Use it as a guide to living sustainably, peacefully, and in harmony with the All. Read from the book at www.innercirclepublishing.com
